

Mother's responsibility

Four major predispositions interplay to manifest the everlasting dynamics, influences, affections, immersions and changes of character and events

The Sun, Moon and the rest of the planets interplay with Chrono-dynamic influences to define our lives.

Chrono-astrological interpretations of our life's significant moments could exalt our abilities and take advantage of certain chances and events.

Astrology is a research and prediction tool of individual and mass human behavior towards placidity and happiness.

Astrology's inner understandings, can empower men's mental state and ability, activate intuition, increase optimistic mood, boost self-confidence, strengthen ability to survive and overcome negative results, control impulsive behavior, and be in harmony with surroundings and environment.

Horoscope is estimated and calculated with mathematical process, independent of the chance, luck, fortune, sorcery and magic.

Predictions inferred from horoscope and according to a certain chain of cause and effect relationship invoke and determine corresponding series of results.

Use of horoscope therefore should not be terminal, static and an anathema but a blessing and a guide.

Plato referred to the descent of soul through the orbits of the planets and in the embrace of matter and as a consequence each individual faces adversity that governed by the influence of the stars.

Cosmic rays and radiation from the Universe, especially rays which emanate from the closest planets and planetary stars to earth, bring electrochemical changes to the nature of the human brain and consequently affect the behavior of individuals.

Planetary influences are filtered by the individual mental temperament and the result can be portrayed through our actions and behavior.

Planetary positions and influences should be detected from early childhood and psychoanalysis of astrological human types should be checked at least annually.

Therefore, a prime responsibility of the mothers of newborn is to fully understand their babies predisposition and tendencies to artfully guide their kids during early childhood and elementary school years.
