

ASTRODYNAMICS

By Nicholas Aristotle Demos

According to the proposed chrono-astrological system, as a selective synthesis of “heliocentric”, “geo-centric, "geo-heliocentric" and other systems, four major predispositions interplay to manifest the everlasting dynamics and changes of character and events. Sun, Moon and the rest of the planets interplay with chrono-dynamic parameters and factors to define our lives.

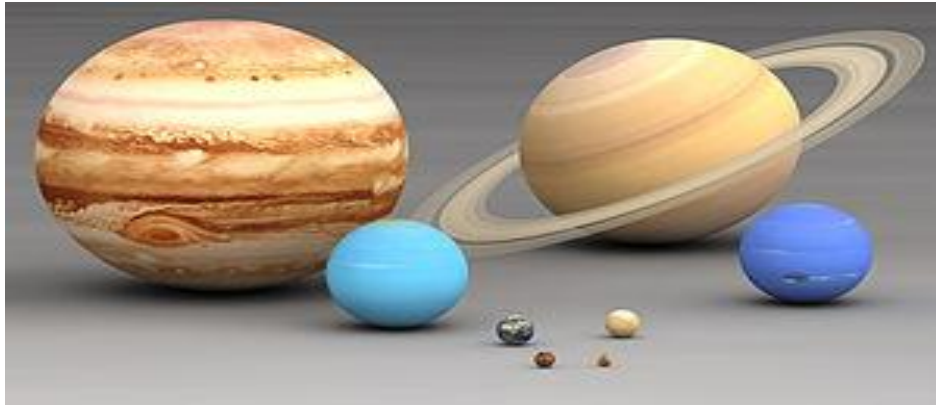

- Astrological charts and predictions on events like births, deaths, etc but most importantly chrono-astrological interpretations of our life’s significant moments could exalt our abilities and take advantage of certain chances and events
- Astrology is the ancient science dealing with and exploring the astrological influence upon nature and humanity
- Astrology is a complex phenomenon that reveals man's relationship to the stars in various events of his life
- Astrology is a synthesis of analytical predetermined patterns, and combines art and science to bring about practical knowledge. The purpose of knowledge is to discover the cause. Art helps to interpret correctly signs, symbols and patterns while science helps to observe events and phenomena in order to establish the truth
- Astrology can be considered an adventure in human understanding in relation to planetary moves
- Astrology is a research and prediction tool, even “forecasting instrument”, of individual and mass human behavior towards placidity and happiness. From the time of Hippocrates, astrology has also been considered as a specifically valuable tool for diagnosis of diseases
- Astrology’s inner understandings, can empower men’s mental state and ability, activate intuition, increase optimistic mood, boost self-confidence, strengthen ability to survive and overcome negative results, control impulsive behavior, and be in harmony with surroundings and environment
- Horoscope as a sky map or chart, estimated for some particular time, drafted and constructed on paper and interpreted in accordance with strict predetermined rules.
- Chrono-horoscope can extent its use overtime.
- Horoscope is estimated and calculated with mathematical process, independent of the chance, luck, fortune, sorcery and magic.
- Predictions are inferred from the horoscope, with strict mathematical ways and according to a certain chain of cause and effect relationship invoke and determine corresponding series of results.

- Use of horoscope therefore should not be terminal, static and a plague but a blessing and a guide and should not be associated and coupled with auto-suggestion.

Our belief and analysis is based on the Platonic concept, which in principle deals with the descent of soul through the orbits of the planets at the sub moon sphere. From the time the soul is found in the embrace of matter, faces adversity and governed by the influence of the stars and must itself be liberated from these hardships and adversity perfecting the mental features (nous) towards all human and divine matters.

- Plotinus: "It is clear that the movement of heavenly stars affect things on earth"
- Iamblichus: "Only the "animal-instinctive human soul is subject to the influence of the stars"
- Francis Bacon: "The nature and the predispositions of humans dominated by the planets"
- Tycho Brahe: "The stars govern human destiny"

- The more man knows thyself, he/she knows the different levels of his/her functions and limits, the more determines consciously his/her destiny, and the less he/she is influenced by instinctive predispositions, urges and actions.
- It is scientifically proven that cosmic rays and radiation from the Universe, especially rays which emanate from the closest planets and planetary clusters (asterisms) to earth, bring electrochemical changes to the nature of the human brain and consequently affect the behavior of individuals.
- Planetary influences are filtered by the individual mental temperament of each person and the result is a personalized character that can be portrayed through our actions and behavior.
- Planetary positions and influences if properly detected especially from early childhood could be effectively and usefully used as a means of predicting the instinctive nature of the humans.
- Beyond man's instinctive nature, the man has a complex psychological world, with many and different phases of manifestations. Indeed, unless psychoanalysis of astrological types is not sound, many times prediction and its provision are often ambiguous if not possible.
- The astrological predictions of possible and certain events and features are characterized of the polarity level of each individual between intent and interest. It is common and possible that the personal karmic experiences, during the bodily life on earth, could change and distort predispositions.
- The planets as the picture below indicates synchronize their influence on our planet Earth and our lives.

©2013 Nick Demos | ALL RIGHTS RESERVED